Jak Wawrzyniak

Jak Wawrzyniak brings more than 20 years of international lacrosse experience as both a player and coach across the United Kingdom, United States, and Canada. His involvement in the sport spans grassroots development, high-performance programming, and the professional and international stages, including five World Championship appearances representing England.

In addition to his extensive lacrosse background, Jak has built a successful career in executive leadership, specializing in business development, strategic partnerships, and organizational growth. Supported by graduate education in research and counselling, he combines practical leadership experience with a strong understanding of athlete development and organizational governance.

Jak is passionate about advancing lacrosse through strategic, athlete-centred leadership. His priorities include strengthening technical programs, enhancing athlete and coach development pathways, expanding participation opportunities, and supporting the sustainable growth of lacrosse across British Columbia. Through both his professional and sporting experience, he brings a collaborative, forward-thinking perspective focused on building strong systems that support long-term success for athletes, coaches, and communities.
